

We must have a balanced communication system. Owner conglomerates of stations provides a unilateral perspective and view of the world. As a nation we must be open to the rest of the world not follow a nationalistic view point of what is out there, as well a a simplistic view. Television and radio stations must be diverse in ownership in order to present that balance to the public it serves.